

CINEMA HISTORY

Today in 1953 the rom-com Roman Holiday premiered, and went on to earn Audrey Hepburn, in her first starring movie role, an Academy Award for Best Actress.

Born in Belgium, the multi-lingual actress (English, French, Dutch, Italian, Spanish, and German) went on to create an iconic body of work, most famously in her role as Holly Golightly in Breakfast at Tiffany's.

After a successful and dignified career, Ms. Hepburn chose to devote most of her life to her family and UNICEF, in which she crossed the globe to help the less fortunate, and for her efforts was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom in 1992, a year before her early death at 63 years of age.

RUMI/NATIONS on Music & Movies By Kerem

Have you seen the movie Interstellar? If you have, launch yourself to the ocean of humans who have received the Revelation (yeah, the one with the big "R"). If you have not, then stop whining about the lack of gloriously beautiful wondrous kisses in your life, get the DVD today (yes, today!), shut yourself in whatever cave/room/abode/dwelling/altar you reside and watch this movie. And after you're done with the movie and stopped bawling your eyes out because you just saw God (trust me on this...this is an inevitability), go out into the sun/night/afternoon, and gently tell people you are not mad but you are now in possession of the secret of life.
